September being the 9th month of the year, is known for having many national events such as Teacher's day, Forgiveness day, Hindi day, Engineer's day, Alzheimer's Day, Day of the Deaf and besides the national events, there are many international events too. Such as World Literacy Day, World Ozone Day, World Tourism Day, etc. It seems that September is a time to celebrate and raise awareness.

Hindi Diwas, which is celebrated on September 14th, is a very important and precious day for all Indians. Hindi being the major language spoken all around the world and it is our national language, a special day is dedicated to it where all Indians celebrate the day with pride & joy.

How did the whole thing start? Why is September 14 known as 'Hindi Diwas'? So the response to that is, during the drafting of the Constitution of India, on September 14th 1949, it is celebrated to commemorate the Hindi language where a compromise was concluded on which languages should have official status in the Republic of India.

Upon hearing 'Hindi Diwas', the first thing that comes to our mind is the celebration we used to have in our schools. Specially during Hindi lecture, the teacher would come and ask us to prepare a skit/play based on Hindi Diwas or make us write an essay about it in Hindi language itself. Or there were other contests taken during this day such as debate, poetry and storytelling contests, etc., but in Hindi language. Even teachers gave speeches in Hindi to make us understand and know its importance and to inspire us to be patriotic in our hearts.

In this way, the Hindi language is our identity and Hindi diwas is specifically celebrated as an effort to promote the language. So let's not forget to respect our national language because, in a way, it is very much a reflection of our culture.

Interesting fact: - Hindi is the third most spoken language worldwide

THINGS ABOUT DRISHYAM 2 EXPERTS WON'T TELL YOU

-PALAK RANA

The movie Drishyam2 was spot on to the fact of absorbing viewers attention as there were no songs to be found throughout the entire movie, yet the audience were stucked to the story, Now that's what we call the power of Jeethu Joesphs words. The first part of the movie almost had me wondering about Vijay Salgaonkar losing the case but the later part of the movie did justice to the restraint. asked to be brutally honest the movie was soo to it's focal point that it lacked the entertainment factor of the Indian film industry, as a Bollywood viewer most of the movies are made for the purpose of entertainment . Although the movie was of the crime and suspense genre, it became a bit monotonous in the first half. It was a bit unethical and unrealistic in my point of view, Although Anju did all of it to protect herself in the first place but the criminal got away. Police is portrayed in a negative light throughout the course of the two movies when in reality they are the ones fighting for Justice.

EK VILLIAN

- SHIZA DESHMUKH

Ek villain returns was a decent well made franchise film with lot's of twist and turns which holds the threatful experience from the edge of the seats from start to end.

The story had lots of twist and turns and even dark than the previous film.. The screenplay was fast paced and more thrilling in the second half! All the songs were too good in the film but galiyaan returns was one of my fav song from the film! Mohit sir's direction was awesome specially the metro fight sequence was too good ..You'll definitely get lot's of Mohit suri's previous film's vibes in this one and even feel nostalgic in some scenes as well .. Arjun's performance was much better in this film, Tara's performance was really nice specially her own voice in the songs were too soothing to hear and Disha's performance was really impressive in this one! But the main highlight of the movie is John.. He literally nailed it.. Tbh I really got emotional for him in the climax.. Overall it's a really nice film to watch it on the big screen.. I unexpected story will surely makes you curious who's the real villain in the film.. For couples and youngsters this film is a really good one for them to watch it in theaters.. A nice thrilling ride in the villaintines day!.. Ratings for this film - 4/5

THE ARMOUR FOR DAUGHTERS

-SHIZA DESHMUKH

A Daughter with passion,
A father with vision,
He dreamt of seeing me succeed.
And see us on independent lead.

She was anxious about failing,
He assured her about him supporting.
She took a step forward towards her goals,
Her motivation was that beautiful soul.

There was an abundance of crowd,
She remembered his words, "Make me proud".
With that energy she performed,
Knowing she was already a winner as he had crowned.

Impression on the crowd was made,
Her smile was the key, it didn't fade.
There was a synchrony of whistles and applause

After seconds, they went silent, she still smiled,
Except for a whistle that didn't go mild.
She lifted the head, scanned through,
It was her Father, only joy that her heart knew!

There's no other love like that of a father,
They protect you like an armour.
Only if I could get one wish fulfilled,
I would want to get the time with him stilled.

Tum aur tumhari baatein

-Ridham bhadreshwara

Tum bade khush nazar aate hon jab tum khudse baatein karte hon Tum muje apna khud bana lo Aur phir din bhar khudse baatein kiya karo,

Tum mujse ye soch kar baatein karo jese main tumhari
koi soch hoon ya phir tumhara koi khayal,

Tum jab apne khayalo se baatein karte hon tab tum kya mehsoos karte hon Mujse bhi baatein karke tum theek waisa hi mehsoos kiya karo.

Tum khudse baat kiya karo

Aur main tumse baat kiya karunga

Aur akhir mai hum us hi insaan se baat kar rahe hai

Jisse main pyaar karta hoon.

JOURNEY OF A HOST

-INTRA COLLEGE FEST "DESI FISTA"

-Shraddha sharma

It has been an amazing journey for me from being an introvert bud to growing into an extrovert flower. Today too, I have a good roar of laughter after reading the first script that I wrote . It was too simple & monotonous. Those scripts felt as if the audience will have a good nap listening to it. However, our Heads and CP were so welcoming & calm towards us. They pointed our mistakes by criticizing constructively and at the same time ensuring that they appreciated our positive aspects as well.

They made themselves so open and approachable whenever we had doubts.

It has been an amazing journey, from looking for a catchy tagline to introduce us to making the script interactive & interesting, everything was fun and we got to learn a lot. We were left with only 7-10 days to prepare so we all worked extremely hard for this in terms of attending online meetings during holidays and practicing the whole script as if we were performing on day.

We practiced thoroughly in front of the mirror & looked after our body language while we host. Now that we look back, all the hard work felt worth the struggle and we now marvel at our growth. The fear during hosting, the trembling of legs & hands, sweating of palms, I remember all the struggles. However, my co-host, CP & Heads made me feel proud of myself. They tipped us to be free in front of the audience, to be confident and to not let our smile fade. I can still hear these voices from Heads and CP echo inside my head.

The intra college fest went really well. It was full of fun and was indeed an amazing experience. We all truly enjoyed as well as learnt a lot throughout our journey of hosting.
